

The Province of the Intellect in Religion, Vol. 3: Deduced From Our Lords Sermon on the Mount, and Considered With Reference to Prevalent Errors (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Province of the Intellect in Religion, Vol. 3: Deduced From Our Lords Sermon on the Mount, and Considered With Reference to Prevalent Errors

In a former part of this Work we considered two main portions of the whole Christian Law delivered on the Mount. The first of these portions comprised the Law of the Name, - of the Kingdom, and - of the Will, and set forth the absolute truth of holy personal Being by setting forth, in its great leading lines, the complete Body of holy Law, whose ordained office it is to determine the genuine character of that Being in its Birth, its Growth, and its Perfection, and to guard that character in its revealed and accepted integrity from all desecration and corruption, inward or outward. This portion of holy Law which is intelligibly complete in itself, and which is also the root or living germ of its succeeding portions, we designated as the truth; and we would now affirm generally what then appeared from a detailed examination of this whole Body of Law, namely, that it presents the absolute truth of holy personal Being under the forms of holy Law.
